

Coming soon

We're launching our new and improved website later this year with content that's tailored to you and your organisation, including updates, events and resources. You'll find an easier online booking experience for our events, the ability to save pages to read later, and new online discussion forums.

Who to speak to

Helen Jeffery
Digital Manager
helen.jeffery@housing.org.uk

Get in touch

Find out more about how you can make the most of your Federation membership by getting in touch with our membership team.

✉ membership@housing.org.uk

National Housing Federation

Lion Court,
25 Procter Street,
London WC1V 6NY
020 7067 1010
www.housing.org.uk

Do you want to find out more about any of these member benefits? Send your details to us at membership@housing.org.uk and we'll get back to you.

Name:

Organisation:

Job title:

I'd like to know more about:

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Making the most of your membership

Are you making the most of your Federation membership?

As a member of the National Housing Federation, anyone from your organisation can get involved in our work. You can shape national policy, engage in high-profile campaigns, tell the sector's story and network with housing associations around the country.

You also have access to expert advice, specialist resources and free local events and networks.

Are you making the most of your membership? Complete our checklist to find out.

Did you know that as a Federation member you can:

Provide insight and evidence to help us shape national policy?

We have a proven track record of successfully influencing policy, and your input helps us make a strong case for policy developments that benefit our sector. We also recognise that every housing association is unique, and your insight is essential for us to understand how policies may impact on your business in different ways. You can stay up to date with the latest consultations on our website and via Federation News, or speak to our Policy team to find out what's coming up.

www.housing.org.uk/email-updates

Who to speak to

Catherine Ryder
Director of Policy and Research
catherine.ryder@housing.org.uk

Access our specific member offers?

We understand that there is huge diversity across the sector, and every housing association has its own unique priorities and challenges. We've developed a series of tailored member offers to support your business, help you navigate the political environment, and provide resources and tools that are relevant to you. This include our offers to smaller housing associations, rural housing associations and board members – with other offers coming soon.

Who to speak to

Sarah Finnegan
Head of Member Relations
sarah.finnegan@housing.org.uk

Benefit from tailored support in your area?

Every member has a named contact at the Federation who knows you and understands your business. Get in touch with your local External Affairs Manager to discuss priorities and challenges in your area, understand how you can support and engage in our work, and what the opportunities are where you are. The team coordinates a large number of networks and interest groups across the country, on topics such as development, supported housing, communications, diversity, finance and governance. They're an opportunity for you to discuss the latest developments with your colleagues, share concerns and exchange good practice.

📄 www.housing.org.uk/about-us/who-we-are/member-services/member-relations

Who to speak to

Katie Teasdale
Head of Member Relations
katie.teasdale@housing.org.uk

Monica Burns
Head of Member Relations
monica.burns@housing.org.uk

Make the most of our member discounts on sector-leading conferences?

As a Federation member, you can secure the best prices on our sector-leading conferences, where you'll hear from high-profile speakers, discuss the latest sector developments and network with colleagues. As well as our multi-award winning National Housing Summit, our programme of conferences includes Board Member Excellence, Regeneration and Development, and Business Transformation.

📄 www.housing.org.uk/events

Who to speak to

Chris Bancroft
Head of Events
chris.bancroft@housing.org.uk

Use our research and data tools to talk about your work?

We have a range of research and data tools and resources to help you influence decision-makers and communicate the impact of your work. These include a tool to assess the economic impact of your organisation, which is available exclusively to Federation members. Other resources include our map of brownfield sites, and our comprehensive Housing Counts database, which allows you to build a picture of the housing crisis in your area.

📄 www.housing.org.uk/resource-library/research-and-data-tools-for-members

Who to speak to

Tristan Carlyon
Head of Research and Analysis
tristan.carlyon@housing.org.uk

Get the best rates on our paid-for publications?

Our suite of publications are a great way to get expert advice and guidance in your role – from how to be a successful board member to understanding housing jargon. Your Federation membership entitles you to the best prices and the opportunity to pre-order our publications.

📄 www.housing.org.uk/resource-library/federation-bookshop

Who to speak to

Rick Lloyd
Communications Officer
rick.lloyd@housing.org.uk

Benefit from our offers and discounts?

We work with our Preferred Suppliers to secure deals on products and services that benefit you and your tenants.

📄 www.housing.org.uk/offers-and-benefits

Who to speak to

Emma Hodges
Head of Business Development
emma.hodges@housing.org.uk

Participate in our campaigns and media stories?

Get involved to help raise the sector's profile – we run high-profile campaigns on key issues for the sector, and contribute to national and local media stories. There are different ways to get involved, from sharing messages on social media to providing case studies for key media outlets.

Who to speak to

John Pierce
Campaigns Manager
john.pierce@housing.org.uk

Charlotte Deshmukh
PR Manager
prteam@housing.org.uk

Receive newsletters and email updates that are relevant to you?

Federation News is our fortnightly round-up of the latest sector news and updates, and we also produce newsletters and updates on topics such as finance and welfare reform, as well as a quarterly bulletin for board members.

📄 www.housing.org.uk/email-updates

Who to speak to

Ruth Williamson
Communications Manager
ruth.williamson@housing.org.uk

Attend our free events and webinars?

We run a programme of free member events and webinars addressing key issues for housing associations. These include our regional leadership forums, events for board members, and sessions for smaller housing associations.

📄 www.housing.org.uk/events

Who to speak to

Rebecca Murphy
Events Manager
rebecca.murphy@housing.org.uk

